News and Announcements

A busy last week of school

After all the pressure of standardized tests, our class play, three days at Jug Handle, and finishing our projects, it's hard to believe there's only one more week of school. True to form, it's action packed. We'll be making Main Lesson Book Front Matter on Monday, binding the books on Tuesday, visiting UC Davis on Wednesday, moving to our new classroom on Thursday, and performing at the Assembly on Friday, followed by a celebration in our new classroom. Along the way, we'll celebrate Savannah and Sisi's birthdays, and maybe a few Summer birthdays as well.

More drivers needed for the UC Davis field trip!

Can you help drive/chaperone students to UC Davis on Wednesday, June 7? We plan to leave from Woodland Star at 8 AM, and expect to return around 4 PM. Note that the signup form on ParentSquare does not seem to be working correctly. To sign up, please send me an email or use the class website: <http://wss4.ronliskey.com/volunteer/panel/1316>

Moving supplies needed

Please send empty cardboard boxes to school for classroom packing and moving. We plan to pack most student work by Tuesday, and move to the new classroom on Thursday. Please also send a portfolio and pillowcase to school on Tuesday so that your child can bring home class projects and personal items.

Class Play: The Trojan War

Thanks to Bright Wang, the final performance of our class play can be viewed in living color:

Many great photos are also arriving. I'll post an image gallery of the play "real soon now."

Jug Handle Field Trip: A Success

The Jug Handle field trip was a great success. The weather was perfect. We kept busy from start to finish. Everyone had fun and learned a lot. We ate way too much gourmet food, and still managed to come in under budget. Pictures have been arriving and will be posted "real soon now."
